

Generalization

Bottom up approach in which two low level entities are combined together to form high level entities

Specialization

- Opposite to specialization. It is a top down approach in which high level entities can be broken down into lower level entities.

