

“A Special Problem Solving Session on Google APAC”, A Live Streaming

To discuss about the common slipups, by the students during the programming competition, a live streaming session was conducted by Google on “A Special Problem Solving Session on Google APAC” on 25th August 2016. Students of Seventh and fifth semester of Computer Science & Engineering Department attended the online session. It was an information session for the students who are willing to participate in Google APAC 2017, so that the common mistakes are not repeated during the programming competition.

Mr. Deepak and Mr. Ajay from Google, during their session on Google APAC

Question and Answer session