

JOSH TALKS 2016 LEAP CONFERENCE

A two days conference LEAP was organized by Josh Talks on 22nd and 23rd of October 2016 at Thyagaraj Stadium, INA, New Delhi. Over 2 days, the conference showcased 24 inspiring, thought-provoking stories delivered by achievers from technology, science, conservation, politics, sports, and the arts. It gave an insight into some of the remarkable outcomes brought about by a combination of fresh ideas, optimism, and tireless creative energy. Sakshi Sangwan (Roll No.- 17124) student from Department of Computer Science & Engineering attended the conference. The conference was a great learning experience for everyone. The conference ended with a question in every mind do the initiative needs to be huge or the solution impactful, as one of the speakers said, "Solve small, dent big."

Co-founders of Josh Talks during the opening presentation

Sakshi Sangwan , CSE student (17124) with Mr. Ryan Martyr, one of the speakers at the conference.